7. Information about children

Persons under the age of 16 are not allowed to provide personal information about themselves unless they have asked a parent or guardian for permission.

In the case of Data Subjects under the age of 14, their legal representative or guardian may provide personal data or make a declaration on their behalf.

The Data Subject who is over the age of 14 but under the age of 18 may provide personal data and make a legal declaration only with the consent of his/her legal representative or guardian.

By providing the information, you represent and warrant that you will act in accordance with the foregoing and that you have no legal capacity to act in relation to the provision of the information. If you do not have the legal capacity to provide the information, you must obtain the consent of a third party (e.g. legal representative, guardian). In this context, you must consider whether the consent of a third party is required in connection with the provision of the information. The Data Controller may not have any personal contact with you, so you are responsible for ensuring compliance with this point and the Data Controller shall not be liable in this regard.

We will use all reasonable efforts to delete any information that has been unauthorisedly provided to us and will ensure that this information is not passed on to anyone else or used by us (whether for advertising or other purposes). Please let us know immediately if you become aware that a child has provided information about themselves without authorisation. You can contact us using the contact details highlighted at the beginning of this Notice.

10. Data security measures

The Data Controller shall take all reasonable measures to ensure the security of the data, and shall ensure an adequate level of protection, in particular against unauthorised access, alteration, disclosure, erasure or destruction, accidental destruction or accidental damage. The Data Controller shall ensure the security of the data by appropriate technical (e.g. logical protection, in particular encryption of passwords and communication channels) and organisational measures (physical protection, in particular training of the Data Controller's employees in data security, restriction of access to information).

Please help us to protect your information by not using an obvious login name or password and by changing your password regularly, and please do not disclose your password to anyone else.

11. Rights and remedies of the Data Subject

Your data protection rights and remedies, and the relevant provisions and limitations of the GDPR in this regard, are set out in detail in the GDPR (and in particular GDPR 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 77, 78, 79 and 82). Below is a summary of the most important provisions.

11.1 Your right of access

You have the right to receive feedback from us on whether your personal data is being processed. If such processing is ongoing, you have the right to access your personal data and the following information: az adatkezelés céljai;

- a) the categories of personal data of the Data Subject;
- b) the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data have been or will be disclosed, including in particular recipients in third countries or international organisations;
- c) where applicable, the envisaged duration of the storage of the personal data or, where this is not possible, the criteria for determining that duration;
- d) your right to obtain from us the rectification, erasure or restriction of the processing of personal data concerning you and to object to the processing of such personal data;
- e) the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority; and
- f) if the data has not been collected from you, any available information about its source;
- g) the fact of automated decision-making, including profiling, and, at least in such cases, the logic used and clear information on the significance of such processing and its likely consequences for you.
- h) the fact of automated decision-making, including profiling, and, at least in these cases, the logic used and clear information on the significance of such processing and its likely consequences for you.

If personal data is transferred to a third country, you have the right to be informed of the appropriate safeguards for the transfer.

We will provide you with a copy of the personal data that are the subject of the processing. If you have submitted your request electronically, the information will be provided in a commonly used electronic format unless you request otherwise.

11.2 Right to rectification

You have the right to have inaccurate personal data about you corrected without undue delay at your request. You have the right to request that incomplete personal data be completed, including by means of a supplementary declaration.

11.3 Right to erasure ("right to be forgotten")

(1) You have the right to have your personal data erased without undue delay at your request if one of the following grounds applies:

- a) the personal data are no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed;
- b) you withdraw your consent on which the processing is based and there is no other legal basis for the processing;^[1]^[2]_[SEP]
- c) you object to the processing and, where applicable, there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing;
- d) the personal data have been unlawfully processed;
- e) the personal data must be erased in order to comply with a legal obligation under EU or Member State law applicable to us; or
- f) the personal data were collected in connection with the provision of information society services

(2) Where the Controller has disclosed the personal data and is required to erase them pursuant to paragraph (1), the Controller shall take reasonable steps, including technical measures, taking into account the available technology and the cost of implementation, to inform the controllers that have processed the data that the Data Subject has requested the deletion of the links to or copies or replicas of the personal data in question

(3) Paragraphs 1 and 2 shall not apply where the processing is necessary for, inter alia:

- a) for the exercise of the right to freedom of expression and information;^[1]^[2]_[SEP]

- b) to comply with an obligation under EU or Member State law that requires the processing of personal data;
- c) for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes, where the right referred to in paragraph 1 would be likely to render such processing impossible or seriously jeopardise it; or
- d) for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims

11.4 Right to restriction of processing

(1) You have the right to restrict processing at your request if one of the following conditions is met:

You contest the accuracy of the personal data, in which case the restriction applies for the period of time that allows us to verify the accuracy of the personal data;

- b) the processing is unlawful and you oppose the erasure of the data and instead request the restriction of their use;
- (c) we no longer need the personal data for the purposes of processing but you require them for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; or
- d) you have objected to the processing; in this case, the restriction shall apply for a period of time until it is determined whether the legitimate grounds of the Controller prevail over the legitimate grounds of the Data Subject.

Where processing is subject to restriction pursuant to paragraph 1, such personal data may be processed, except for storage, only with your consent or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or for the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person or for important public interests of the Union or of a Member State.

You will be informed in advance of the lifting of the restriction on processing.

11.5 Obligation to notify rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing

The Data Controller shall inform each recipient to whom or with which the personal data have been disclosed of any rectification, erasure or restriction of processing, unless this proves impossible or involves a disproportionate effort. At your request, we will inform you about these recipients.

11.6 Right to data portability

(1) You have the right to receive the personal data concerning you that you have provided to us in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format and the right to transmit such data to another controller without hindrance from the Controller, if:

- (a) the processing is based on consent or on a contract; and
- (b) the processing is carried out by automated means.

In exercising the right to data portability under paragraph 1, you have the right to request, where technically feasible, the direct transfer of personal data between controllers

11.7 The right to object

You have the right to object at any time, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to the processing of your personal data based on legitimate interests, including profiling. In this case, the personal data will no longer be processed unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Where personal data is processed for direct marketing purposes, you have the right to object at any time to the processing of personal data concerning you for such purposes, including profiling, where it is related to direct marketing.

If you object to the processing of your personal data for direct marketing purposes, your personal data may no longer be processed for those purposes.

In connection with the use of information society services and by way of derogation from Directive 2002/58/EC, you may exercise your right to object by automated means based on technical specifications.

If personal data are processed for scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes, you have the right to object to the processing of personal data concerning you on grounds relating to your particular situation, unless the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out for reasons of public interest

11.8 Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority

You may enforce your rights before the courts under the GDPR and the Civil Code, and you may also contact the National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information (NAIH) (1055 Budapest, Falk Miksa utca 9-11) in case of a complaint about the data controller's data management practices. Detailed rights and remedies in relation to data processing are set out in Articles 77, 79 and 82 of the GDPR

11.9 Right to an effective judicial remedy against the supervisory authority

You have the right to an effective judicial remedy against a legally binding decision of the supervisory authority which is addressed to you.

You have the right to an effective judicial remedy if the competent supervisory authority does not deal with your complaint or does not inform you within three months of the procedural developments or the outcome of the complaint. Proceedings against the supervisory authority must be brought before the courts of the Member State where the supervisory authority is established.

11.10 Right to an effective judicial remedy against the controller or processor

You have the right to an effective judicial remedy if you consider that your rights under the GDPR have been infringed as a result of the processing of your personal data in a way that does not comply with the GDPR

Proceedings against the controller or processor shall be brought before the courts of the Member State in which the controller or processor is established. Such proceedings may also be brought before the courts of the Member State where the Data Subject has his or her habitual residence.

It is recommended to send the complaint to the controller before initiating any procedure.
